

Kelley Fox Wines Albariño 2022

This teeny bottling of Albariño was fun to produce and is intended to be a super casual white table wine. The fruit was whole cluster pressed and spent its entire life in a small stainless tank. It is brilliantly transparent pale apricot and golden yellow in appearance. The nose has oceanic minerals and salinity along with tropical fruits. The mouth is juicy and mirrors the tropical nose with just a hint of pleasing herbal, plant-y character.
